

VetMIST is dedicated to training of veterinarians on minimally invasive procedures with the goal of bringing diagnostic endoscopy, interventional endoscopy, minimally invasive soft tissue surgery, and arthroscopy into everyday use in practice.

VetMIST offers courses at training facilities as well as personalized training at individual practices. Whether you are experienced endoscopists looking to expand your potential or completely new to endoscopy with no equipment, we provide training customized to your needs.

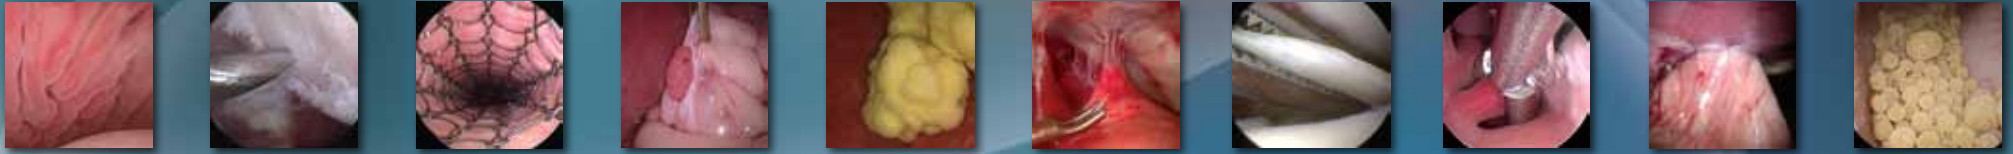

VetMIST.com

13777 SW Pleasant Valley Road
Beaverton, Oregon 97007

(503) 260 - 1897

tmccarthy@upwardaccess.com

Veterinary
Minimally Invasive Surgery
Training

Where to start?

We will conduct an evaluation to determine the best plan for your practice, based on caseload profile, clinicians' interest, and practice economics. Our goal is to help you get up and running as soon as possible, to create a profitable and enjoyable endoscopy service.

What to buy?

An equipment list will be generated and any needed items may be provided by industry leader KARL STORZ.* Upon delivery of equipment, both technical staff and doctors will be trained in the setup, operation, cleaning, sterilization, and trouble shooting of all parts of the system.

What to expect?

Doctors will be trained on endoscopic procedures as well as the indications, case selection, advantages, preparation, expected results, and postoperative patient care. Overall goals for the program are to achieve the maximum utilization of endoscopy in your practice with maximum benefit for patients and profitability of the practice.

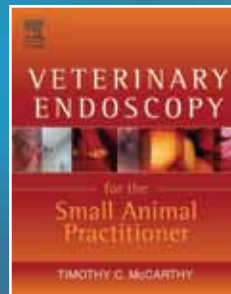

What to do?

An extensive list of diagnostic and surgical procedures that can be performed by endoscopy can be found at www.vetmist.com. The primary focus of VetMIST is on applications of rigid endoscopy but Dr. McCarthy also has extensive experience in flexible gastrointestinal, respiratory, and urogenital endoscopy.

Why pursue Endoscopy?

Less pain. Faster recovery. Happier clients. Better profit. More fun!

*VetMIST receives no monetary compensation for equipment sales from KARL STORZ. Equipment purchases are entirely at the discretion of the client.

Dr Timothy C. McCarthy has practiced endoscopy for over 25 years. He has lectured extensively around the globe, published numerous articles, and is editor of the definitive text, Veterinary Endoscopy for the Small Animal Practitioner.